The cities and communities of Orange County offer a range of residential choices, from exclusive homes with breathtaking views of the Pacific Ocean to modest homes in captivating designed communities. The County totals 948 square miles, 42 miles of immaculate beaches, 2 major harbors, vast wilderness parks and open space, top-rated attractions, world-class shopping and a wide range of cultural arts.

Orange County is a worldwide tourist destination attracting more than 38 million visitors each year. Orange County is home to Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm, miles of famous beaches and coastline, and the largest convention center in the west (Anaheim Convention Center). Tourist spending swelled to a record $7.31 billion, supporting nearly 83,000 local jobs.

With a population of more than 3 million residents (8.5% of California's population), Orange County is the second largest county in California, trailing behind Los Angeles and just surpassing San Diego County, and ranks as the fifth most populated county in the nation. Orange County's population has increased by approximately 29% since 1990 and growth is expected to continue with population projections over 3.6 million by 2030. Compared to the United States overall, Orange County has a slightly younger population that is significantly more affluent and better educated. Superlative demographics continue to attract businesses to Orange County.
